3. Project proposal for International Credit Mobility:

PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

Objectives

Organizing and realizing a mobility/ exchange programme with European institutions. The mobility project will have a great impact on YSITC's development and progress in different terms. Also, it will give an opportunity to the programme country HEI's mobility participants to gain an unforgettable experience in Yerevan, Armenia. Studying or teaching in our institute will give the chance to learn from the traditional theatre and film school of the country with rich culture and history. Amazing landscapes of Armenia are very interesting to film directors. For the Theatre professions it is interesting to engage with smart and creative young artists of Armenia.

Staff's professional development will have a positive influence directly not only on their professional experience and work but also on students. The project gives an excellent opportunity to staff and students to become more competitive and flexible specialists in labor market at national, regional and international levels.

Activities

Main activities will include staff mobility for teaching, training, job-shadowing, student mobility for learning.

Results

Students are the primary carriers of the project results and outcomes as they have an essential role. New methods, mechanisms brought make them become excellent subject-specific specialists, thus ensuring institute's reputation and social responsibility in terms of providing quality education.

Teaching and administrative staff will bring and apply new methods and techniques, which will make their work more effective.

Promoting mobility brings new culture, transmit the cultural peculiarities of each country to one another, thus creating a cycle of cultural changes. This will also enable employees easily accept changes, improvements ensuring the Institutes' sustainability and employees' productivity.

Experience exchange in-house trainings, newsletters, publications etc., will disseminate and spread project going results and achievements at institutes' all departments ensuring success and sustainability of the project.

The cooperation within the Erasmus+ projects will create a common environment for the young artists to collaborate and realize new creative ideas together.

It is very important in terms of strong partnership between the HEIs.
